DEATH CLAIMS WELDON KING AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Beloved Farmer Was Pioneer In Modern Practices

Thomas Weldon King, a beloved and well known farmer of rear Fulton died Tuesday at Jones Hospital after an extended illness. His death brings great sadness among the townspeople all around Fulton and especially among the farmers, who regarded him as a progressive, and efficient leader among them. Mr. King never missed an opportunity to make modern installations in his farm operations and his farm was a model of efficiency for others to follow. At one time Governor Wetherby came to his farm to view the outstanding program Mr. King had put into effect.

He was a good and kindly man and had many friends in his area who regretted to hear of his passing.

He was the son of the late Frank and Margaret Browder King. Both of his parents passed away when he was quite young and he was reared in the home of his uncle and aunt, the late Mr. and Mrs. Ed Browder.

He united with the Palestine Methodist Church in 1908 and held membership there until time of death.

On March 25, 1909 he was married to Miss Lula Milner and (Continued on Page Twelve)

NO WORD YET ON SECOND SHOTS OF SALK VACCINE

Health Department Personnel To Go To Paducah Meeting

No definite word regarding the second round of shots of the Salk polio vaccine to be administered to county school children has been received here, Miss Mary Henline, county health nurse said today.

Although it has been reported that Kentucky has received enough of the vaccine to give 50,000 shots to the State's first and second graders, the State Department of Health has made no mention as to how it will be distributed, Miss Henline said.

Miss Henline, Mrs. Ula Gordon and Dr. J. P. Harrell will attend a two-day District Health Department meeting in Paducah next week, when it is believed that the vaccine supply will be discussed. The local department has been questioned as to the number of shots given to school children in the first inoculations in April, but no word has been received by them as to whether they plan to administer the second round any time soon.

The vaccine for the additional inoculations to first and second graders will be stored by (Continued on page twelve)

K. HOMRA FAMILY ADDS NEW LOOK TO POPULAR STORE

Modernistic Sign Completes Extensive Remodeling Program

When the K. Homra family decided to give their Lake Street ready-to-wear store a face-lifting, they went all out. Although their popular store had an attractive, enough appearance, they chose to give it the real big city appearance that it now has.

The store front is faced with light colored brick and the show windows are spacious and attractive. But the crowning feature of the whole remodeling job is that huge, slanting neon sign on the front of the building that says "K. Homra." Of evenings the sign adds a modern, outstanding glow to the other progressive store front buildings and adds greatly to the appearance that Fulton is a modern, fine little community whose merchants are on the beam, guided with neon signs.

We Invite Happy Chandler To Sue Us For Mis-Statements He Says We Printed; We Defy Him To Produce Record Of "Gold Card"

A beaten, bewildered and (un) Happy Chandler came to Fulton last Friday afternoon. Like a man grasping in the winds for a straw, he continued his wild accusations of untruths against the administration of Governor Lawrence Wetherby. There was nothing new in his speech here Friday, except his personal attack on the publishers of the News. In his desperate attempt to hold together a rapidly disintegrating following, he is using a new technique in his below-the-belt campaign oratory. He goes into the town of staunch Combs followers and begins to berate them for their support of that gubernatorial candidate.

In Fulton, when the publisher of this newspaper asked him to explain his connections with the wholesale liquor firm during the war he said to the News Publisher:

"I am not going to answer those foolish questions and I don't intend to."

Because the questions made him mad, because he has steadfastly maintained that how he made his money is no business of the people of Kentucky, because he refuses to tell the voters whether his association with that whiskey firm was legitimate or undercover, because he sees the handwriting of defeat on the ballot in August he gets mad like a little boy and tells lies on local people, just as he has lied with facts and figures about the present Administration.

He admitted that the Fulton News was the first newspaper in the State of Kentucky to reveal his dealings with a Lexington whiskey firm during the war. That's true, even if it did come from Happy Chandler. We were also the first newspaper in Kentucky to reveal the terms of that contract—the more whiskey sold by that organization, the more Mr. Chandler made in fees, which he refuses to explain. And he made more than $32,000 in fees, too.

For those statements reported in the News Mr. Chandler also said he could sue the News and take this paper away from us. But doesn't want it, says he. Nor does he want the Courier-Journal, a nearly ten million dollar newspaper. No, he just wants to be Governor and serve the "people" at $10,000 a year.

We dare Mr. Chandler to sue us. We dare him to attempt to sue us for any mis-statements we have made about him in this newspaper.

We know that we are making local enemies by not supporting Mr. Chandler and attempting to correct some of the mis-statements he has made during this campaign. We ask those same local people to reveal our editorials and news coverage of this campaign and we promise them this:

IF THEY CAN PRODUCE ANY EVIDENCE OF FACT TO PROVE THAT WE HAVE DELIBERATELY AND FALSELY ACCUSED MR. CHANDLER OF WRONG-DOING WE WILL DONATE A FULL-PAGE AD IN THE NEWS TO CORRECT THE FALSEHOOD AND WE WILL PUBLICLY APOLOGIZE IN A FRONT PAGE EDITORIAL.

He accused the News publishers of being "gold-card carrying favorites of the Administration." The only gold-card we've ever seen is one entitling voters to a free swim in Happy's swimming pool, given him free during the war and made with critical war materials.

We defy Mr. Chandler to produce any record of any so-called "gold-card" ever issued to the News Publishers. We dare him to do it. We dare him to produce one dime's worth of anything we ever received free from the State of Kentucky entitling us to be "gold-card carrying favorites."

That generous decision of his not to sue us because he has a newspaper of his own, was just another of his (Continued on Page 4)

Barkley Support Of Combs Is Sweeping Voters All Over Ky.

Senator Alben W. Barkley's endorsement of Bert T. Combs for the Democratic nomination for governor last week was having sweeping effects throughout Kentucky. The weight of the prestige and influence of Kentucky's beloved "Veep" was interpreted as being the "clinch" to assure Combs' nomination at the August 6 primary.

Two paragraphs stood out in the letter in which Barkley announced his support of Combs. They said:

"In his discussion of the real Combs has stressed the issue of integrity, and has stated that he would rather lose the election than to win and go out of office with a record of broken promises. That apparently had a strong appeal to Barkley."

"He has an unblemished record of loyalty to the Democratic party and its great service to the American people."

The full text of Barkley's letter endorsing Combs follows: Dear Mrs. Cantrill:

I have been thinking earnestly over the letter you wrote me a few days ago about the Governor's race in Kentucky.

I am sure you know how much I have admired your devotion to the cause of real democracy. To every labor in which you have enlisted you have brought a refinement, a culture, and a sincerity which have enriched them. Hosts of other women have done the same. For all this, as a citizen, I am grateful.

I have watched the contest in Kentucky somewhat from a distance, for my duties in the Senate have kept me constantly (Continued on page four)

The candidate cancelled an earlier speech however, and the other speaking engagement in West Kentucky in order to make a final appeal to Fulton County voters before the primary election on August 6.

OPEN MEETING AT CAYCE TO DISCUSS FOUNDATION PLANS

New Program Of Education To Be Viewed By P-TA

On Monday evening July 25, at eight p. m. the Cayce P. T. A. will hold an open meeting at Cayce High School for the purpose of discussing Kentucky's Minimum Foundation for Education. At this time, a film explaining the program and the work it can do for the schools when financed will be shown. County Superintendent, Beal Darnell will be present to speak and answer any questions.

This meeting is of special importance to all parents and everyone who is interested in the improvement of education in Kentucky is invited to be present. Much has been said about the minimum program but few understand just how much it will help in their own district where their own children are concerned. This will be an excellent time to hear the full story.

The children of Kentucky and of Fulton County need the benefits of this program and they cannot receive them without the support of the public.

Golf-Happy Ladies Participate In Four-City Tournament At Country Club

A golf-happy group of more than 110 ladies gathered at the beautiful Fulton Country Club course Tuesday to indulge in their all-time favorite sport. Lady golfers from Mayfield, Metropolis and Paducah joined the Fulton ladies in the second of the three inter-city golf tournaments planned this year.

The golf course at the Country Club was colorful with its many fountains of players dotting the links all morning and all afternoon. Dressed in snappy golf attire and playing just as snappy golf, some right snappy golf scores were turned in also.

Fulton's own Virginia Rogers was medalist for the day with an 88 competing with top golfers from all over Kentucky. Her score, topped that of West Kentucky's golf champion Jane Ann Nail of Mayfield.

At noon-time the ladies were served a delicious barbecued chicken dinner. Mrs. Joe Hall (Continued on page twelve)

PATRICIA LATANE

Pat Latane:

My family and I really need some advice. Will you please answer some questions for me?

We want to move, should we? What place would be best to go to? F. or M. Is my husband seriously sick? Will he be able to keep the job he now has. Will he get a promotion soon if he stays with the company he is with now?

Will we sell our home soon? We had some items taken from our home; are there more than we know about? Should we investigate?

Will C. E. ever settle down? What will happen to the baby?

Dear Peg:

No, stay where you are. If you move you will regret it. No, your husband isn't seriously sick, he will get a promotion soon if he doesn't act foolishly and quit. Yes, I would investigate, as there is something missing that you haven't missed and it is of great value to you. It was in a truck or else a cedar chest. No, C. E. won't ever settle down. Their baby will be in the hands of a kindly elderly couple and will have a good home.

Dear Pat:

Will the people give us any trouble about the trade we have with them? Should the plan we have for borrowing money and getting insurance connected with it be carried out or would I lose the premium on the insurance? Will my health improve and how long will it be before I can do the things I've always done? Should I try to get the job I've been talking about or stay like I am? Will we ever get out of debt if so when? Will we get the money we are asking for now to be refunded? How long will my sister stay where she is and how is her health? Will she improve or get worse? Should we expect her home any time soon?

Will my son prosper at what he is now doing and was it a wise change he made recently? How many children does he have and will he have any more. If so will they be boys or girls or both? Are the children he now has boys, girls or both?

Please answer in the next paper after you get this.

Anxious Mother

You will not have any trouble about the trade or borrowing the money as for getting out of debt you will never be out of debt as long as stores sell things on credit. Your husband is 61 years old. You cannot hold the job you have been talking about. Your sister will stay where she is about 6 or 7 months. Her health is good. All her trouble is wanting sympathy. Yes, your son made a wise move. Your son has two children one boy and one girl.

Dear Pat:

This is my first time to write and I hope you answer in the next issue of The News.

1. I have misplaced my marriage license. Where can I find them?

2. Will my husband have to go over seas? If so when? and will I get to go with him?

3. Will my husband make a career of the service?

4. When we will have our first child?

5. Is my husband being true to me?

6. Where can I find my petal pushers?

Thank you

B. H. B.
Please, answer soon as some of the questions are very important to me.
Dear B. H. B.:

Your marriage license is in an old purse. Yes, your husband will go over seas this Fall. No, you want get to go when he does but you will follow in about 2 or 3 months. Yes, your husband is going to make a career of military service. Your first child will be born over seas in 1956. Yes, your husband is true to you. Your petal pushers are in a dresser drawer not ironed.

Dear Patricia:

I read all your letters and the advice you give in the paper and would like to ask you a few questions.

I get worried about my health some times.

Will my sister visit me this year if so when can I look for her to come?

Will we make any trips this year if so where will we go and when?

Will we keep the place we now have, or will we go some where else to live?

Will my son ever marry? Has he met the girl if he does marry. When will it be? Will he work at the job he now has or will he go away from here.

Will I ever be left alone and have to live by myself? Is my husband in good health or do I have cause to worry about him? Please answer this in this week paper.

Yours truly
N. E. R. B.

Dear N. E. R. B.:

There isn't anything wrong with your health except in your mind. You can look for your sister just any day now. No, you want make any trips. You will continue to live at your present address. Yes, your son will marry but not in the near future and he hasn't met the girl yet. He will leave in the near future, to work elsewhere. At the present I do not see you living alone. If you do it will be several years before you do. Yes, your husband is in good health.

AMENDMENTS ADVERTISED

Secretary of State Charles K. O'Connell advertised two amendments to the Constitution for submission to the voters in November. The Constitution requires that such amendments be advertised for at least 90 days prior to the November election.

Text of the two proposals as they will appear on the ballot are:

"Shall Section 145 of the Constitution be amended so as to permit persons of the age of 18 to vote, who are otherwise qualified under this section?"

"Shall the Constitution be amended so as to exempt from taxation all household goods of any person used in his home?"

DISTRICT SILO DAY ATTRACTS OVER 200

The district silo day held near Mayfield on the Johnson farm attracted farmers and agricultural workers from FIVE states. Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Mississippi. Over 200 watched the Silo Dream slice through the soil, making forms for a permanent trench silo.

HISTORY was again made in the Purchase region of Kentucky as the Western farmers decided to concentrate on storing their surplus pasture and corn mixtures in concrete trench silos. This small segment of Kentucky has many firsts to its credit in Agriculture. In the twenties Purchase farmers were the first to go into dairying and import dairy cows from northern dairy regions; then in the early forties these Western Kentucky farmers were first to breed dairy cows artificially in the state now, they are again first to construct permanent trench silos by pouring concrete into a trench six inches wide, 7 1/2 feet deep and on an angle of 15 degrees. Yes, Purchase Farmers Are Progressive.

During the District Silo Day Mr. E. B. Howton of Murray

State College, Mr. Henry Simmons, District Fieldman for the Pet Milk Co. and Mr. P. R. Farlow General Agriculture and Forestry Agent for the Illinois Central Railroad all made inspiring talks and in a manner which farmers could understand. A silo was dug and poured during the day and a completed concrete trench silo was visited and cost figures were given by Mr. John Freeman, fieldman for the Pet Milk Co. The silo day was conducted by the Graves County Agriculture Council.

This silo program is being sponsored by the Agricultural Department of the Illinois Central, Field Department of the Pet Milk Co., The Extension Service, The Jackson Purchase Production Credit Assn. and the Soil Conservation Service.

SELL LATE LAMBS

Now is the time to sell all lambs that weigh 70 pounds. The ones that do not weigh enough take them away from the ewes. Keep the rams up during the day and turn them out with the flock in the late afternoon or evening. You will get more earlier lambs if you do this, after July 15.

If your ewes are fat it is all ways a good practice to let them lose weight, then at breeding time let them be in a gaining condition. This too will result in more early lambs. Give the ram a little corn at night when you put him up. It is a good idea to drench ewes in the fall or before breeding season. Ten pounds of phenothiazine mixed with enough water to make 2 1/2 gallons of drench should be given as follows: 2 ounces to yearlings and mature ewes and one ounce to late lambs to carry over. Care at breeding time is just as important as care at lambing time.

COMMISSION REPORTS

The Legislative Research Commission reported that taxes on commodities may affect their consumption but reached no definite conclusion on the effect of cigarette taxes on tobacco consumption.

"Little is known about factors which determine per capita level of cigarette consumption," according to the report with "most economists holding that demand for cigarettes is inelastic and is affected little by price increases."

The study was asked by two members of the 1954 General Assembly—Mrs. Randolph Wilson, Glasgow, and Paul Ratcliffe, Shelbyville.

Senator George of Georgia used his high personal prestige to have Federal regulation of highway advertising struck from the road-construction bill before the Senate.

The original blockhouse where the Kentucky River empties into the Ohio didn't discourage Indian attacks. It was finally abandoned. Then, in 1790, General Charles Scott built a formidable fortification . . . and Port William, now Carrollton, and later Carroll County came into existence.

One of Kentucky's most scenic areas, Carroll County today has wide expanses of fertile farmland which are surrounded by wooded hills. Tobacco is the chief crop, but there are fine cattle herds and much diversified farming. From atop Butler State Park visitors can look down on the beautiful Ohio River. Here, General William Orlando Butler, leader of American Volunteers in the Mexican War, lies buried.

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by Marie Holland

Home Demonstrator Kentucky Utilities

What size of a home freezer shall I buy? Size should be governed by number of members in the family and way freezer is to be used. Each cubic foot of freezer space holds about 35 lbs. Five to six cubic feet of space is needed for each person in the family, if most meats, fruits, and vegetables consumed are stored by freezing. As size goes up original cost and power consumption for each cubic foot goes down, making larger sizes better buys. However, this must be balanced against space requirements and storage needs.

Whatever type of freezer is selected, it should be operated according to manufacturer's instructions as to defrosting and general care. A freezer should normally give long and dependable performance. However, it is important to deal with a local dealer who can adequately service your unit, should an emergency occur.

If freezer operation is interrupted by your electric power service, which seldom does on our K. U. service, several hours would not normally cause food spoilage in the well insulated freezer on the market today. If the failure is in the household circuit or in the freezer mechanism and there is delay before repairs can be made, observe the following precautions.

Keep the freezer closed to conserve as much cold as possible. A well filled freezer will keep most foods frozen for 2 or 3 days, if dry ice is available. Arrange about 25 pounds of ice on top of the frozen food packages. If dry ice cannot be obtained and it seems likely that the service interruption will be for an extended period, it may be necessary to place the food in containers and store them temporarily in a commercial frozen food locker. If partial thawing has occurred before refrigeration is resumed, you can refreeze any package in which some ice still remains. However, such package should be used before those in which no thawing has occurred. If complete thawing has occurred, various foods should be handled differently. Thawed fruits can be used for jams, jellies, sauces or preserved. Completely thawed meats, poultry and fish should not be refrozen. If contents still have a fresh odor, cook and then refreeze.

MRS. CANNON HOSTESS TO STATE LINE HOMEMAKERS

The cool, shady lawn of Mrs. Edwin Cannon was the meeting place of the State Line Homemakers on Monday, July 11. Nine members, Miss Hamilton and three visitors, Mrs. William Jackson, Mrs. V. L. Phillips and Mrs. Leon Faulkner, were present. The club was happy to receive Mrs. Jackson as a new member.

Miss Hamilton gave instructions to the officers for the next year. She announced that Annual Day will be on Oct. 19. She, also, gave the club instructions as to what the members can do to help out during the fair in Mayfield in August.

The club plans to sell barbecue sandwiches and pie at the Duke of the South on election day, July 23 and Aug. 6.

A work-day was set for Thursday afternoon of this week at Mrs. Maurice Coffman's to make copper planters.

Mrs. Doil Phillips gave a report on lessons for next year. The subject of the major lessons will be "Clothing Selections". Included in this will be selection of basic wardrobe, accessorizing a basic costume, selection of fabric, selection of lines and designs, selection of color, posture, and foundation garments.

Sunshine gifts were received by Mrs. Willie Cavender, Mrs. Hazel Walker and Mrs. Doil Phillips.

Mrs. Cannon served delicious open-faced sandwiches, cookies and cakes to the group.

The next meeting will be their annual picnic on the lawn of Mrs. Neal Hedge.

Our Youngsters Little Ebby, who had a talent for getting into mischief, ran into the kitchen with a brighter-than-usual gleam in her eyes. "Mommy," she announced importantly, "I gave the kitty a bath."

"But what towel did you use?" her mother asked anxiously. "I didn't use any," she answered. "I just wrung him out."

Chairs for "Wilderness Road" at Berea, Ky., feature bright plaid coverings and weigh practically nothing.

We Invite Happy Chandler To Sue Us For Mis-Statements He Says We Printed; We Defy Him To Produce Record Of "Gold Card"

attempts to fool the people of Kentucky about the kind of Governor he was or the kind of Governor he will be. He also said he could sue the Courier-Journal and take that newspaper away from the Bingham.

We ask him this . . . why doesn't he? Why hasn't he? We'll tell you why. Because he has no basis for a suit. We reported the facts. We saw the cancelled checks. We saw the contract. We saw the "agreement" he cancelled with the liquor company when his "services" were no longer needed and whiskey was in plentiful supply. We can see why he wouldn't want the small News, as if he could have it, but why doesn't he want the Courier-Journal, a newspaper that probably makes more money in one year than Mr. Chandler can make the rest of his life and the rest of his family's life in legitimate politics. And we'll wish them long lives, too.

If he sued every newspaper in Kentucky who has questioned him about his whiskey dealings, and took them away from the owners, he would have a chain of newspapers that would make the Hearst and Scripps-Howard chains look like small potatoes. No, he just wants to be Governor!

WHY DOES MR. CHANDLER REFUSE TO DISCUSS THE CONTRACT HE HAD WITH THE WHISKEY PEOPLE?

While we dare him to produce our "gold-card" and defy him to tell us why he thinks he can sue us and take this paper away from us, let us ask him again:

"Why Mr. Chandler do you refuse to talk about your whiskey dealings and why have you not produced your income taxes, when all those you asked to produce theirs have agreed to do so."

Answer these questions Mr. Chandler, with a sound answer and not a dodge, a grin or a gag.

Judge Combs Believes In Fair And Honest Campaign Speeches Using Facts, Not Mud

(In an attempt to acquaint you with the sincerity and sense of fairness of Judge Bert T. Combs, a candidate for Governor, we thought you would be interested in the report of a speech he made recently at Bowling Green, Kentucky. His plane of campaigning is such a direct contrast to that of his opponent it is refreshing to give you this story, as reported by Ben Reeves of the Courier-Journal.

(We give you the story of his speech as he said it . . . honest, kind, and considerate of the voters who have listened to mud-slinging and false accusations from some candidates. We give you the story here with:)

Bert T. Combs appealed for a campaign for the governorship of Kentucky based on fairness and fact.

"In the three weeks remaining before the primary, my opponent and I will be in a position to get a degree of publicity that is not available to everyone in Kentucky.

"I think we have an obligation and a duty to be careful what we say—to make sure that it is fair and has some basis in fact," Combs said.

He is opposing A. B. Chandler for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Combs said he thinks it unfair and unjust for a candidate to go into a county and berate a resident of that community who does not happen to support the candidate in the campaign.

"That person is branded by whatever we say about him, and he does not have the facility that we candidates do for getting his side of the story before the public," Combs said.

He did not cite specific instances of such campaign tactics, but his audience seemed to understand what he meant.

In a speech at Madisonville Chandler recently attacked state Senator Clarence Maloney of that city. He also attacked other persons in speeches in their home towns—John Flannery, a State Highway Department employee, at Marion; Mack Sisk, State publicity director, at Dawson Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling publishers of The Fulton News at Fulton, and Senator Earle Clements at Morganfield.

Combs spoke to about 800 persons in the Courthouse yard at Morganfield in traditionally Republican Butler County. He talked to about 1,200 in front of the Barren County Courthouse at Glasgow and to a large crowd at the Courthouse in Bowling Green.

Combs said he believes Kentuckians are far more interested in the issues of the campaign than they are in the candidates.

"I don't think the people particularly care whether Bert Combs, A. B. Chandler or any other candidate wins."

Sermonette Of The Week

What Is Heaven Like?

By Frank Sheed, Author and Publisher

EVERY ROAD must have an end, a destination, and the same is true of the road of life. The atheist tries to place the end of the road at death. But atheists are always exceptional in the world. For most men the question of what is the end of life simply means what comes after death.

But what is on the other side of the door of death? Some say they don't care; but no one can really mean that—eternity is a long time. To know what comes after death would be an impossible mystery, however, if God hadn't told us. Fortunately He has. He has told us that heaven is at the end of the road of life.

WHAT IS HEAVEN like? Some tell us that it is simply a place of harps, hymns, crowns of gold and streets of jasper. But these are only symbols without much meaning for us. For the average man, a place of endless hymns-singing is anything but pleasant.

Heaven is the place of perfect happiness, flowing from the knowledge and love of God. We know from experience that happiness is always in the soul. The state of the body may cause happiness, but happiness itself is always in the soul.

A MAN may have all he wants to eat and drink, be in perfect health, but be deeply unhappy about the death of a friend or something else he knows and feels inside apart from his senses. So in heaven too our happiness will come through the soul, through its vision of God.

Some people might think it too spiritual to say that perfect happiness consists in direct knowledge and love of God. But think of the happiness you feel at the sight of a beautiful sunset, at the sound of beautiful music, or at the sight of the one you love deeply.

THESE FLASHES of great happiness last for only a minute. But the God who created the one you love, and the beauty of the sunset is the source and author of all beauty. The sight of Him will bring more joy than any of these other passing things. And the difference is that you will never get tired or weary of Him Who is infinite Beauty.

The biggest thing to remember about heaven is that we cannot picture it. As St. Paul tells us, the happiness of heaven is indescribable and unimaginable. But it is perfect and can be ours—forever with God.

REMEMBER that death ushers us into the next life. It does not choose our place; that is decided by the state of our soul in relation to God. Through His Divine Son, Jesus Christ, God has given us the map for the road of life. With His help we can follow it and reach the goal He has prepared for us.

kind faces and motherly ways belie that fact.

We were just getting used to seeing legs when hair, the "crowning glory", according to the orators, of womanhood, came in for its share of attention. Again, the upsurge grew almost unbearable; this was the very end of the world. All the previous prophecies were repeated, usually with some added premonitions of calamity. Again the mass of the female world rolled on as if it were governed by some cosmic laws that vain man could not understand or govern. By sheer weight of numbers the women won again, won so complete a victory that most of the present generation can hardly imagine how bitter was the fight. And bobbed-haired young women of twenty-five and more years ago are some of the same gracious grandmothers who also wore shorter skirts than had been worn previously for a long time. This is being written on Mother's Day, a day set aside for the contemplation of how much we owe the women of the world. I wonder, who else, besides me dared think today of the dire things that just did not happen when women asserted their right to follow their own noses. Maybe on this day we secretly honor them for this age-old characteristic.

The good is often interred with their bones. —Shakespeare

TID BITS

of Kentucky Folklore

* Barkley
in Washington, and may do so until August.

I have been trying to look through and beyond whatever chaff may have been threshed up in the campaign to find some real grain as the basis of my own decision as to how I should vote in the race for Governor.

In this process I have reached the conclusion that the nomination and election of Judge Bert T. Combs as Governor of Kentucky would best promote the welfare of our people.

He has conducted his campaign with a dignity that befits the office.

He has shown a knowledge of state problems which is comforting.

He has displayed a courage which is reassuring.

He has exhibited a candor which is commendable and a little unusual.

He has refrained from vituperation, abuse, vilification and buffoonery which is refreshing.

In his discussion of the real issues he has demonstrated a political and intellectual integrity which makes a strong appeal to me.

He has an unblemished record of loyalty to the Democratic Party and its great service to the American people.

These are among the reasons for my decision to cast my vote for him in the August primary.

I have no personal interest in the identity of the next Governor of Kentucky beyond that interest which should be manifested by every citizen in the welfare of the state. But I have received so many suggestions and inquiries as to how I intended to vote, and there seems to be so much confusion and misrepresentation as to my intention and my attitude, I do not feel at liberty in good conscience to withhold a frank response.

I have no purpose to conceal my attitude behind a veil of evasion, secrecy or duplicity. Therefore, you are at liberty to make the contents of this letter public through the press.

Cordially and sincerely yours,
Alben W. Barkley

There are 1791 seats in Indian Fort Theater at Berea, Ky.

The two changes that I have watched with varying emotions have been the shortening of skirts and the bobbing of hair. There used to be a time when folk feeling was very hard to overcome. The older, more solid people of both sexes felt that showing any considerable part of one's neither limbs was unforgivable. The ladies, and there were genuine ladies in those modest days, swathed themselves in so many garments that legs and human form were alike concealed. Victorianism forbade the mere mention of such crud, members as legs.

Chandler, Ed Denney, or Howard Clay is governor of Kentucky.

"But they do care about the platforms and the programs of the candidates. They are interested in knowing what candidate has the best platform and that he will stand on it during the next four years," he said.

"Set Record Straight"

He said Chandler advocated repeal of the sales tax, which produced $6,700,000 a year in revenue. But Chandler imposed 15 other taxes—including an income tax—which produced $12,200,000.

"I'm not criticizing him for it you understand, I just want to set the record straight."

The Clay County native twitted Chandler for saying that he Combs, doesn't know what first base is.

"Now, I'm going to admit that he knows more about the baseball business than I do. He might have gotten to first and second before I did. But I am standing on third base right now, and he is floundering around out in left field.

"I say to you when I cross home plate, he will still be out there in left field," Combs said.

Combs admitted that when the primary campaign started, Chandler was probably better known than he, but he said Chandler may find that there is such a thing as being too well known.

The Administration-backed candidate said he thought he had a pretty good job on the Kentucky Court of Appeals before entering the governor's race.

Will Be Good Governor

"I didn't have to resign from the court to enter this race. Senator (Mills) Logan stayed on the court and ran for the Senate, and Governor (Flem D.) Sampson didn't resign when he ran for and was elected Governor.

"My friends, I didn't resign from the Court of Appeals in order to be a puppet governor. I didn't resign to be a mediocre governor. I didn't resign to have somebody else tell me what to do as Governor of Kentucky," he said.

Combs said he did resign from the court because he believes his program can and will take Kentucky forward in the years to come.

SAFETY WEEK DESIGNATED

Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby designated the week of July 24-30 as "Farm Safety Week in Kentucky" and called on all farmers to survey their own farms and homes for safety hazards "correct them and encourage all others to join in the campaign to make Kentucky farming safe."

"Farm accidents in Kentucky have reached an all-time high level in deaths and injuries, said the proclamation "with farming showing the highest number of workers killed annually of all major industries."

Failure, to observe adequate farm safety measures is associated with nearly all deaths and injuries, observed the Governor.

Bert Combs in 1945. The picture was made at a rest camp in the Philippines a month or so after the end of war with Japan. Combs, now a candidate for governor, served in the army from Sept. 15, 1942 to May 19, 1946.

RAYMOND WRIGHT IS NAMED CHAIRMAN OF VETS GROUP FOR JUDGE BERT COMBS

Appointment of Raymond Wright, of Hickman, as chairman for the campaign of Bert Combs in Fulton County was announced here today. Mr. Wright will work with veterans groups and with individual veterans and their families in organizing for Combs throughout the county. His appointment was announced by the state Veterans for Combs Committee which is lining up veterans organizations in all counties.

The state group is headed by David Martin, Franklin; Pete Peterson, Auburn, and William A. Young, Frankfort, co-chairmen. They are assisted by an advisory committee of 25 other veterans.

The organization has described Combs as "the one candidate who is both a loyal Democrat and a true veteran."

Combs served for nearly four years in the army during World War II. He enlisted as a private in September, 1942, was promoted to corporal several months later and was graduated from officers candidate school in December, 1943.

He was assigned to the Philippines early in 1945 and served there as chief of the Investigating Section of the War Crimes Department. He was decorated by both the American and the Philippine governments and discharged as a captain in May, 1946.

If elected, Combs will be the first World War II veteran to serve as governor of Kentucky.

Poor Casey Murphy: "What's that hump on your chest, Pat?" Pat (in a whisper): "Dynamite. I'm waitin' for Casey. Every time he meets me he slaps me on the chest and breaks me, pipe. Next time he does it, he'll blow his hand off."

At 8:00 a. m., Sunday, June 5, I boarded an aeroplane at Washington's National Airport. Sixteen days later, on Tuesday, June 21, an airlines hostess announced, "Washington, D. C." and I was back from a 15,000-mile journey to the Far East.

In between that departure and that arrival I visited Japan, Korea, Formosa, South Vietnam, Cambodia, Thailand and several other points, including a memorable stop at that small and very important island—Quemoy. I was asked to make this trip by Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona, Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, in order to prepare a personal, on-the-scene report. Senator Dirksen and myself, representing the two great American political parties, were designated to survey Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific in connection with certain elements of the new 1955 Mutual Security Program.

This legislation, to be reviewed by the Appropriations Committee shortly after July 1, underlines the importance of this area to world peace. And it is an importance that cannot be exaggerated. The Free East—a vast, troubled arc, extending from the Republic of Korea and Japan to the Middle East—is populated by more than 710 millions, one-third of the world's population. Its poverty, its economic conditions are reflected in the fact that the income per capita averages $108 per year. In majority of these countries two of the most severe problems are overpopulation and under opportunity. And history teaches us that overpopulation is often a detonator of war, a kind of "G" bomb—"G" for overpopulation.

Because of this and many other factors, the United States Senate felt that this region rated top-priority in our efforts to maintain and make possible a more enduring peace. Of the two-plus billions of non-military assistance, called for in the new Mutual Security Bill, $1,451,000,000, or 68%, is for Asia. How strategic is this area? Consider the fact that it has the world's longest common boundary with the Soviet Union and Communist China, that it provides the United States with invaluable materials—tin, tungsten, manganese ore, chrome. Consider, too, that the communists look upon it as the "bull's eye" in their long-range aim of conquest, and that in addition to its many other problems, ten of the fifteen nations covered in the bill are currently establishing free and independent governments.

In a few days I will present my official report to the Senate Appropriations Committee. In the meantime, consider this a highly personal, and necessarily brief report to you. However, just as "one swallow does not a summer make"—a two-weeks trip to the Far East does not "an expert make."

One of the many impressions I received on this journey was the fact that there are so many Kentuckians on the move these days. You can imagine my delight when I stepped on a military plane in Saigon, and was greeted by Colonel William L. Tudor, Air Force officer from Lexington. A moment later I shook hands with a young Air Force Master Sergeant named Markis D. Maston. He hailed from Millersburg. The four man crew was, therefore, fifty percent "Kentucky-bred."

On another trip I rode the "Bataan," General Douglas MacArthur's plane that piled up so many historic and heroic miles in the South Pacific during World War II.

Quemoy: I shall always remember this island for many things, its Nationalist Chinese troops as rock-tough as the gravity—but mostly because of the sight of the people there, calmly tending their rice fields, seemingly oblivious to world tensions.

Leaders: Senator Dirksen and I had the distinct pleasure of meeting some of the most distinguished leaders in the Free East. We had an audience with His Majesty Norodom Suramarit, King of Cambodia, President Syngman Rhee of the Republic of Korea, President Chiang Kai-Shek of Nationalist China, and Premier Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet-Nam. We also had conferences with Premier Hatoyama of Japan and with General Lemnitzer in Japan. We also met with General Ferenbaugh in Gona, General Chase in Formosa, and General O'Daniel in Viet-Nam.

Naturally, the points of special interest to myself and to Senator Dirksen were those places where the United States maintains military installations. It was an inspiring experience to talk to some of our men. Their morale is high.

In closing, let me say that it was a fascinating trip and a rewarding one. In these tumultuous days the Far East is one of the world's most significant regions. Anything we learn about the Orient, either individually or as a nation, contributes in some measure to our understanding. And with understanding, comes progress toward peace.

SINCERITY OR BROKEN PROMISES

HERE ARE THE ISSUES:

Do you want a Governor proven in the fields of broken promises and false claims who will put his personal ambitions above the good of Kentucky . . . or do you want a man as your Governor who is straight-forward, honest and sincere and has proven himself in civilian and military life? Of course your answer is Bert Combs who will put Kentucky first.

CHANDLER'S BROKEN PROMISES!

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 that he would reduce state tax on gasoline one cent.

His Performance: Chandler did not reduce the gasoline tax while he was governor.

His Promise: Chandler said he would cut the state tax on real estate in one cent.

His Performance: The state tax on real estate was not reduced under Chandler.

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 he would repeal the act giving the state the right to make blanket raises in county property assessments for tax purposes.

His Performance: Chandler not only did not repeal that act, but his State Tax Commission made blanket raises in county assessments every year of his term.

His Promise: Chandler said in 1935 that he would take the Game and Fish Commission "out of politics".

His Performance: Chandler kept that program in politics throughout his administration.

His Most Misleading Promise: Throughout his 1935 campaign, Chandler declared that through "efficiency and economy" he could reduce state spending and make great progress without the sales tax. He talked of now he would eliminate waste and useless spending.

His Most Damaging Performance: Chandler did not reduce total state spending during even the first fiscal year of his administration, as compared with the last fiscal year of the Laffoon administration. And he made many reductions in essential state services, especially in the field of education.

BERT COMBS' STRAIGHT-FORWARD CANDOR

Bert Combs is not running on the success of any past administration; nor does he find it necessary to distort his own past record. He has clearly stated his courageous platform and his record in both military and civilian life proves him qualified to handle such a program. He will put Kentucky first rather than desert the people to further his own political ambitions.

The healing power of true prayer will be set forth at Christian Science services on Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth."

Among the scriptural selections to be read is the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the child with the "dumb spirit" including the answer his disciples received to their question as to why they did not cure the child: "And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting" (Mark 9:29).

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY :

In reply to Rumors that I am not qualified to be Circuit Clerk because I had not been examined under SECTION 100 of the Constitution, something that has never been done until after an election in November, I wish to state that on June 6th 1955 at Benton, Ky., in the Forty-second Judicial District, I was examined before the Marshall Circuit Court Clerk, Mrs. Martha N. Holland, by Judge H. H. Lovett, Judge of the Marshall Circuit Court, 42nd Judicial District and received from Judge H. H. Lovett the following:

Marshall Circuit Court

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that the undersigned Judge of the Marshall Circuit Court and Judge of the Forty-second Judicial District, has caused to be examined by the Clerk of this Court, John B. Stayton, of Fulton County, Kentucky, touching his qualifications for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, and has found and does hereby find the said John B. Stayton, is duly qualified to execute the duties of Circuit Court Clerk in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Given under my hand this 6th day of June 1955

H. H. Lovett

Judge, Marshall Circuit Court
42nd Judicial District Court

This was then mailed to Hon. J. D. Buckman, Attorney General, for his opinion. His reply on June 27, 1955 stated that in his opinion this Certification of Qualification did comply with the rules of Section 100 of the Ky. Constitution.

This was done because the present incumbent is also a candidate and her cousin is the Circuit Judge and if I had failed they would have perhaps been unjustly criticised.

Respectfully submitted,
John B. Stayton

What Next?

Some weeks after receiving $800 compensation for the loss of her jewelry an elderly woman informed her insurance representatives that she had found the missing property in a cupboard.

"I didn't think it would be fair to keep both the jewels and the money, so I thought you would be pleased to know that I have sent the $800 to the Red Cross," she wrote.

When I am elected your Senator, I propose a bill in the legislature to place the selection of the county school superintendent to the vote of the people.

Before a candidate can have his or her name placed on the ballot, they must have certain qualifications, similar to the requirement by law in regard to our Circuit Judges and Commonwealth Attorneys, which guarantees a qualified county school superintendent, selected by the people.

If my opponent (after eight years in the legislature without an effort to do this for the people) or any county school superintendent can come forward with any reasonable explanation as to why this should not be done, then I'll withdraw my candidacy for State Senator.

Important thought to keep in mind:

When it's safe to pass, make sure you've got the gasoline that lets you enjoy full working octane performance. Stop at your Gulf station and ask the man for New Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX. And make sure your engine is protected with New Gulfpride H.D. Select, the motor oil that controls carbon.

New Gulf No-Nox Gasoline delivers not just the highest octane but full working octane because it's super-refined to burn clean

See what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Gulf takes out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—at the refinery—to bring you new clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX.

NO GASOLINE, no matter how high the octane, will let your engine deliver full power performance—mile after mile—unless it burns clean. That's why it pays to always use new NO-NOX. Gulf NO-NOX is the clean-burning fuel that gives you full working octane day in, day out. In addition, you get...

- more complete engine protection
- extra gas mileage in short-trip, stop-and-go driving
- freedom from vapor-lock, engine stumbling and stalling
- no knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines

Now! For the ultimate in working octane performance, always use Gulf's super-refined gas-oil team... New Gulf No-Nox Gasoline and New Gulfpride H.D. Select Motor Oil

The only motor oil super-refined by the Alchlor Process for modern high-compression engines.

Controls carbon

Combats corrosive acids, rust and deposits

Assures lower oil consumption

Provides the toughest protective film ever developed in a motor oil
